CORAM: HON'BLE MR JUSTICE M.NAGAPRASANNA

ORAL ORDER

The Petitioner in both these cases is husband and wife have registered cases each other for the following offences.

2. Husband had filed a complaint against his wife for the offences punishable under sections 109, 127, 133, 324(4), 351 and 352 of BNS.

3. Wife had filed a complaint against her husband for the offences punishable under sections 109 and 324(4) of BNS.

4. During the pendency of the investigation of both these cases, the parties to the lis have settled disputes amongst themselves and have filed an application seeking compounding of the offences under Section 528 of the BNSS. The offence alleged against each other is one punishable under Section 109 of the BNS, which is Section 307 of the earlier regime. Though the offence under NC: 2024:KHC:34489 Section 307 is an attempt to murder, the investigation is still ongoing.

5. Though the offence is one punishable under Section 109 of the BNS, which deals with an attempt to murder. A perusal of the complaint nowhere indicates that there is any ingredient of the section 109 of the BNS there is no attempt to murder, i.e., projected in the complaint, all that is a minor injury that has happened due to the incident.

6. In the light of several disputes being settled by them, I deem it appropriate to give it acquits by accepting the application seeking compounding by recording the terms of the compromise. The affidavits so filed by the petitioner and the respondent for each of the cases reads as follows:
